The benefits of Emirates Business Rewards

If you're part of a company, club or charity, our Emirates Business Rewards corporate loyalty programme is the most rewarding way to book business travel. Your organisation will earn Business Rewards Points every time your employees or guest travellers fly, and we'll reward individual travellers with Skywards Miles on the same flight*.

Business Rewards Points can be spent on Dynamic Reward Flights and Upgrades on Emirates. This means you have the flexibility to redeem Points for most Emirates flights, in all travel classes and on all fare types. So you can use your Points instead of your corporate travel budget to book business trips, or book flights as rewards for your employees.

Once you've nominated a Programme Administrator, they can manage travel, check your Points balance, book rewards and even request reports on your organisation's travel patterns, in one convenient place.

Sign up online at emirates.com/businessrewards in just a few easy steps, and start enjoying the benefits straight away.

* Only travellers who are Emirates Skywards members will earn Skywards Miles. They will also earn Tier Miles on the flight. If the person travelling is not an Emirates Skywards member, they will not earn Skywards Miles, but the organisation will continue to earn Business Rewards Points.

Earn Business Rewards Points and Skywards Miles on every flight

You will automatically earn Business Rewards Points every time your employees fly. Just remember to quote your Emirates Business Rewards membership number when you make your booking – online, via your travel agent or through an Emirates Contact Centre or ticket office.

Your organisation will receive 1 Business Rewards Point for every USD 1 spent on the base airfare, including carrier charges but excluding taxes and other industry partner charges. This applies to bookings in all Emirates travel classes.

We'll credit your Business Rewards Points within two weeks of travel, and these are valid for two years. These will expire on the next anniversary of your organisation's joining date.

For example, if your organisation joined in August 2016 and earned Points in June 2017, your Points would expire on 31 August 2019. Or, if you earned Miles in October 2016 and the joining date of your organisation was in May 2016, your Miles would expire on 31 May 2019.

And remember, your employees earn Skywards Miles on the same flight.

Here's some examples of how Points are earned:

San Francisco - Bangalore	Return Economy Class flight
Fare (excluding taxes and surcharges)	USD 2,864*
Converted to	USD 2,864
Business Rewards Points earned	2,864
Singapore - Paris	Return Business Class flight
Fare (excluding taxes and surcharges)	SGD 6,838*
Converted to	USD 5,086
Business Rewards Points earned	5,086

* The airfares have been calculated on the Flex Plus airfare amount for the above journeys specified

Calculated using the conversion rate applicable at the time of printing

Spend your Points your way

Whether you want to book future business travel or reward your employees, you can spend your Business Rewards Points on Dynamic Reward Flights and Upgrades on Emirates.

It's easy to book a Dynamic Reward Flight online, in any class and for any fare type. Your Programme Administrator can log in and book a one-way or return flight for employees or guest travellers. The number of Points you need for a Dynamic Reward Flight will depend on seat availability and the fare on that day.

You can also use your Points to upgrade anyone in your booking, as long as the booking has an Emirates Business Rewards number. The number of Points you need for a Dynamic Reward Upgrade will depend on seat availability and the fare difference between the two classes.

Redemption

Here are some examples of how many Business Rewards Points you need to book Dynamic Reward Flights and Upgrades.

Fly from Frankfurt to Bangkok three times in Economy Class and earn 2,955 Business Rewards Points. That's enough to book two reward flights: one return Economy Class Special ticket from Frankfurt to Dubai and one return Economy Class Saver ticket from Dubai to Doha.

Fly from Houston to Dubai twice in Business Class and earn 11,738 Business Rewards Points. That's enough to book two reward flights: one return Business Class Saver ticket from Dubai to Dammam and one return Economy Class Saver ticket from Dubai to Kuala Lumpur.

Fly from Sydney to Dubai once in First Class and earn 12,861 Business Rewards Points. That's enough to book one return Business Class Flex ticket from Dubai to Mumbai.

Note: The Business Rewards Points have been calculated on the Flex Plus airfare amount for the above journeys specified

Manage your organisation's travel in one place

The person who enrolls your organisation automatically becomes your Programme Administrator, and they can manage your account online. You can nominate someone else or add up to five extra Programme Administrators at any time.

Anyone in your organisation can book travel and view upcoming flights through your organisation's Emirates Business Rewards account. They can choose to pay for flights themselves or send a request to the Programme Administrator to arrange payment.

Your Programme Administrator can also view the Points balance, change upcoming travel dates, upgrade travellers and book Dynamic Reward Flights.

With our suite of online reporting tools, you can also get an overview of your organisation's travel patterns and help to get the most out of your travel budget. Request reports on how many Points you've earned, how many reward bookings you've made and what your top routes are.
